DeSORMO KICKS EXTRA POINT TO GIVE HAMILTON 7-6 WIN OVER ALFRED IN FIRST GAME

Buff and Blue Opens Scoring in Second Quarter

HOLDS SLIM LEAD

Alfred Tallies With Two Minutes to Play

BELLATTY PLAYS GOOD GAME

Scores Hill Touchdown and Contributes Several Long Gains

Hamilton opened its 1931 football season with a 7-6 victory over Alfred University under the flood lights at Alfred Saturday night, DeSormo kicking the point after touchdown for the Buff and Blue. Both teams performed fairly well in their first contest of the season, with Alfred having a slight advantage in general play until Hamilton capitalized in its scoring opportunity and held its one touchdown until the last two minutes of the game.

The game was close throughout with several long runs by both teams providing additional thrills. Alfred, with its star halfback, Obourn ripping off lengthy gains, accounted for 11 first downs to Hamilton's 9. Obourn's running was the offensive feature of the game, the Alfred back gaining 30 yards on Alfred's first offensive play. He was well on his way to a touchdown in the second quarter, with a free field ahead, only to be tackled by Bellatty after a chase of 47 yards, the longest run of the contest.

Buff and Blue Defense Weak

Hamilton was weakest on the defense, this deficiency giving Alfred the ball continually throughout the first quarter, when much of the battle was waged in Buff and Blue territory. The Hill forward pass defense, however, prevented the opposing air attack from making any gains, Alfred attempted six forward passes, none of which was completed. Hamilton, on the other hand, gained 18 yards on two passes.

Alfred gained 229 yards on running plays, showing superiority in running offensive, since Hamilton could only gain 158 yards. Hamilton lost 45 yards through penalties to 25 for the home team.

Inexperience was largely responsible for Hamilton's weak defense. The backfield as a whole functioned well on the offense, with DeSormo featuring defensive work on the line. The big tackle was also the sole casualty of the game, at present nursing an ankle injury which developed after the game was over.

Ollikainen Plays Well

For his first full game in the position, Ollikainen worked creditably at quarter. His selection of plays and his field generalship were excellent.

There were no scores until late

Receives Promotion

WILLIAM J. WOODS, '22

With the appointment Friday of Mr. George A. Bradley, managing editor of the Utica "Observer-Dispatch", to a similar post on the Rochester "Times-Union", Mr. William J. Woods, '22, has been promoted to fill the vacancy on the Utica paper. Mr. Woods was first connected with the "Observer-Dispatch" in 1924 as a reporter. He later served in the capacities of state editor, city editor, news editor, and until last week, as assistant managing editor. Mr. Woods also worked on the Clinton "Courier" before his connection with the Utica paper began. He lives on West Park Row in Clinton.

NEW OFFICERS ARE NAMED BY ALUMNI GROUP

Bristol, '82, Chosen President Of Society At Annual June Meeting

At the one hundred and sixth annual meeting of the Society of Alumni, held in the Chapel on the morning of June 13, 1931, William M. Bristol, '82, was elected president of the organization and Bradford W. Sherwood, '82, was named half century annalist. Everett K. Van Allen, '02, was chosen alumni trustee. Robert B. Marvin, '92, acting president, paid tribute to the late president of the society, Theodore L. Cross, '81. The opening prayer was offered by the Rev. F. W. Palmer, D.D., '81, while the assembly silently rose in reverence to their late president.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ADDED TO HILL FACULTY

Three Departments Benefitted By Additions To Hill Staff

Three new professors, Dr. Carroll Lawrence Christenson, Dr. James Q. Dealey and John Robert Mattingly, have been added to the faculty of the College.

Dr. Christenson, Professor of Economics, comes to Hamilton after a year in Norway where, as a Fellow of the American Scandinavian Foundation, he worked on the study of the reorganization of the Norweigan currency. He also spent a part of his time in Stockholm studying Swedish industrial economics.

During the years 1925 to 1929 Dr. Christenson taught at the University of Indiana. The following two years he acted as Research Assistant at the University of Chicago. In 1929 he was Professor of Economics at Lewis Institute in Chicago.

Entering college at Milwaukee State Normal School, Dr. Christenson completed his first two years of undergraduate work there. He finished his college work at the University of Chicago where he gained both his undergraduate and his doctor's degrees.

Dr. Dealey, Associate Professor of Political Science, after his graduation from Oxford University went to Oxford for three years on a Rhodes Scholarship and received his B.A. and M.A. de-

Professor Laves Gives Views on Control Of Foreign Investments in Recent Review

Professor Walter H. C. Laves of the Hamilton Political Science Department is author of an article on "National and International Control of Foreign Investments" in the August edition of The American Political Science Review. The purposes of the study are fourfold; to summarize the nature of the control in each country, to outline the theory underlying government control, to point to the international effects of this control and to propose certain changes which are necessary to bring this aspect of state policy into line with recent developments of international organization.

Professor Laves gives concise expressions to his findings, and he draws the conclusion that "the present situation is likely to continue so long as no other means is available for securing the ends desired by the individual investor and his national government, respectively."

Points Out Remedy

As a remedy for this defect, he points out, "it is reasonable to expect that as soon as some form of international organization can guarantee to the individual citizen the security of his investment and the elimination of capital as an instrument of diplomatic pressure, the investor will be willing to forego the right to diplomatic protection and the national government will be willing to relinquish its hold on the export of the capital. Once established on this basis, such an international financial organization would be in a position adequately to care for the interests of the debtor nation and the world as a whole just as the mandate system today attempts to look after the welfare of native populations and international well being."

Article Is Ten Pages Long

Professor Laves' article occupies 10 pages of the "Review", which has issued reprint copies in pamphlet form.

Jean Wunderlich, German Instructor, Is Wed in Denver, Colorado, During Summer

Jean Wunderlich, a member of the Hamilton College Faculty, was married on June 10 to Miss Jane Burlingame, of Denver, Colorado.

Mr. Wunderlich

The ceremony took place in Denver and from that place Mr. and Mrs. Wunderlich went to Chicago where they spent the rest of the summer.

Mrs. Wunderlich received an M.A. degree from the University of Chicago where she was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. Wunderlich has been a member of the Hill Faculty for one year as instructor in German. He is a native of Frankfort, Germany, where he was graduated from the Holmholz Oberrealschule. He came to America in 1926 and received his A.B. degree from the University of Utah in 1928. He is at present a candidate for the M.A. degree at the University of Chicago.

Word has been received on the Hill that John D. Braymer, '33, is rapidly recovering at his home in Granville, N. Y., from a severe case of appendicitis. Braymer's operation was performer at the Albany City Hospital on Labor Day, and although very serious was successful. He is expected to return to Hamilton in the next few days.

STUDENTS WILL RULE SELVES IN HILL DORMS

Dormitory Residents To Select Own Monitors

ALL CLASSES AID

North College to Have One Committee Of Five

THREE ON OTHER GROUPS

Similar System In Use At Many New England Schools and Colleges

After a consideration of the various surveilance systems employed by many of the colleges and universities of the United States, the Faculty has finally decided upon a system of student monitors, consisting of five committees to act in the three dormitories.

The idea of a supervisory committee was decided upon by the trustees last year when they made their survey of dormitory conditions. The unsightly conditions and the rowdyism existing in the dormitories showed plainly that some method of supervision was needed to lessen noise, to keep the dormitories in condition, and to make them suitable places for study. Therefore President Ferry made a study of the systems used elsewhere including all types from the strictly professional police system in use at Princeton, to the method of instructors who live in the dorms used at Harvard and Yale, and the system in use in most of the other New England colleges where upperclassmen are responsible for the order of the dormitories in which they live.

Students To Select Committees

The plan which was finally chosen gives all classes a share in governing and tends toward student-supervised discipline. Dormitory committees will be elected; a committee for each end of South, one for each end of Carnegie and one committee for all of North. The membership of these bodies will range from three to five men. In Carnegie as well as in South there will be two committees each consisting of one upperclassman, one sophomore, and one freshman. In North, however, since there are not two distinct divisions, the committee will be composed of one upperclassman, two sophomores, one from either end, and two freshmen, one from either end.

HILL CHOIR HAS SIXTY VOICES

Twenty-Five Freshmen Are Given Positions In Musical Organization

Composed of sixty members, of which twenty-five are members of the freshman class, the Choir held its first rehearsal under the direction of Professor Fancher, Thursday evening. The large group from the freshman class will take the place of those members who were lost last June.

Professor Fancher has arranged the new men so as to form a balanced Choir of fifteen men in each section. It is hoped that the Choir will remain this large for the spring trip which is already being planned. The regular concert in the Guild Theatre will be held on Sunday and tentative plans have been announced for New Rochelle on Saturday night and a possibility of going to Summit, New Jersey.

The new members of the Choir:

First tenors—Augustin, Cronyn, Bicknell, Morrill, Sanford, and Carson.

Second tenors—Frasure, Fox, VanTassel, Constantinides, Palem, Weld.

First basses — Green, Brandt, Rutherford, Bates, Ferry, Taylor, Mauer.

Second basses—Becker, Hanshue, Evans, Hall, Shoemer, Courtney.

Richard Murphy,'33, Wins New York and New Jersey Net Crowns in Summer Meets

Hill Junior Defeats Columbia Quintet Captain At Montclair

Richard T. Murphy, '33, who ranks in the list of national tennis stars, was crowned men's singles champion of both New York and New Jersey states during an extensive campaign in the major tournaments of the east during the past summer. Murphy defeated David N. Jones of Columbia, captain of basketball, at Montclair, N. J., for the Jersey state title, on July 5, with the scores, 9-7, 7-5, 3-6, 3-6, 8-6. Six days later, the Utica net star downed Eugene McAuliff, of Yonkers, in the finals to annex the New York State men's title, 5-7, 6-1, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3.

Murphy also reached the semi-final round of the Nassau Country Club's annual invitation tournament at Glen Cove, L. I., but was forced to default, since that tournament was being played simultaneously with the New Jersey championship.

Murphy defeated Casper Nannes, 6-4, 6-2, in the first round of the men's forty-eighth annual tournament at the Meadow Club, Southampton, L. I. He was later eliminated by Clifford Sutter of New Orleans, former intercollegiate champion. The match was hotly contested with Murphy having his opponent match point several times before the tide was finally turned in favor of the southerner.

Lester Stoefen, sensational young Californian, eliminated Murphy in the first round of the annual Seabright tournament. This match was closely fought throughout, the Hamilton man once more having his opponent match point several times before dropping the final, decisive point.

Murphy shared the fate of several other nationally ranking stars by striking George Lott of Chicago at the peak of his game in the National single's championship. The Utican suffered a straight set defeat, the scores being 6-3, 6-3, 6-3. Lott later reached the finals and only superlative, awe-inspiring tennis on the part of Ellworth Vines, 19-year old Californian, turned him back.

CROWDS TAKE NINETY-NINE NEW MEMBERS

Three-Fourths of Freshman Class Members Join Hill Fraternities

Three-fourths of the freshman class has been pledged as a result of the two weeks of rushing on the Hill since ninety-nine members of that class have been pledged to the Hill fraternities. This number is but one less than that of those pledged at this time last year.

Delta Kappa Epsilon has the greatest number of pledges, having 15 new men includnig one sophomore. Psi Upsilon follows closely with 14 freshmen, while Alpha Delta Phi is a near third third with 13. The Theta Delta Chi fraternity comes next with a group of 12. The Emerson Literary Society has nine new men including one junior. Delta Upsilon and Tau Kappa Epsilon have pledged eight men each. In Chi Psi and Lambda Chi Alpha there are seven new men while in Sigma Phi there are four. So far the Chi Beta Sigma fraternity has pledged the fewest number of men, having but three pledges.

The following is a list of the new pledges:

Sigma Phi: Robert R. Carson, Franklin J. Ely, Jr., Richard Ihlder, Theodore H. Throckmorton.

Alpha Delta Phi: John H. Bates, John W. Bicknell, Selden S. Brown, David W. Coughlin, Theodore Cronyn II, Robert E. Gaehr, Jerome

FACULTY MEN VACATION IN VARIOUS WAYS

Hamilton Professors Spend Summer in Play, Study and Travel

Study, research, and travel were among the activities which occupied various members of the Hamilton College faculty during the summer vacation.

At the request of government officials, Dr. Walter N. Hess went to the Laboratory of the Carnegie Institute of Scientific Research on Tortugas Island, the most southerly of the Florida Keys to do experimental work on cataracts in the eyes of fish. He remained there until August 10, studying the nature of vision in the lower forms of ocean life.

Upon his return Dr. Hess supervised work of the same nature

Robert Ashmead Reveals Facts Concerning French Customs After Study at Sorbonne

"There's still a French Colony in Paris," Robert Ashmead, who spent the past year as one of the delegates to Sorbonne under the Delaware Plan, told a Hamilton Life reporter in an interview upon his return to the Hill.

"American jazz bands playing American jazz for Americans to dance the American dance are the most prevalent among the so-called Parisien night clubs. But if one lives in Paris for a few months and keeps his eyes open, he can discover that real Bohemian life which so many tourists try so hard to find.

"There are actually five theaters which show nothing else but strictly American movies, not to mention countless movie houses which run cinemas, made in the United States, but translated into

TWO FOREIGN OPPONENTS ON DEBATE CHART

English, Dutch Teams To Oppose Hill Groups

BRITISH HERE SOON

Will Oppose Holt and Walsh in Chapel October 12

TO DISCUSS DOLE SYSTEM

Speakers Are Not Yet Chosen For Second Contest December 4

Although Hamilton's debating schedule is still incomplete, engagements with several foreign teams give promise of an unusually interesting season. The first of the international debates will take place October 21, when the Hill team meets the students from the English Universities. John J. Walsh, '32, chairman of debate, and Samuel J. Holt, '32, will represent Hamilton, while the English team will be composed of Stuart Craig of University College and John Needham of St. John's College in Durham University. The question to be debated is one that has particular significance at the present time: "Resolved, that the dole provides a better method for solving unemployment than the charity system."

The second international debate of the year is scheduled to take place December 4, when the Dutch Universities' team debates Hamilton.

Ten Debaters Return

Relations with Wells College are to be continued with a debate listed for November, and a radio debate with Cornell will be broadcast over the university station in January. During the following month Hamilton debaters will meet Lafayette at Easton, and on March 11, will compete with Union at Clinton. State Teacher's College and St. Lawrence are tentative.

Hamilton's squad represents considerable strength this year through the return of ten varsity debaters. These men, all of whom have participated in previous collegiate debates, are: John J. Walsh, Samuel J. Holt, Edward G. Hooks, Jack W. Hummer, Arthur H. Stein, Leo A. Zuckerman, Roy L. Smith, John W. Howard, all '32, R. Kerford Wilson, and Irving Gellman, both '33.

College Band, Augmented by New Members, Makes Initial Appearance at Pep Rally

Led by Richard J. Redmond '33, the Hamilton College Band made its first public appearance of the year on Friday evening when the football team left for its opening game with Alfred. At that time the band consisted of about 25 men, but it is expected that the membership will increase to about 30 by the end of the week.

This year the band will be uniformed with white duck trousers having buff and blue stripes down the sides. It is expected that these will be on hand in time for the Clarkson encounter this Saturday.

Marching drills have been held in the Sage building during the past week, and the band will form an "H" on Saturday, as it did last year at the Rochester and Union games. Between halves on Saturday the band will march on to Steuben Field playing college songs, and ending the between-period activities by forming the Hamilton "H" to the tune of "We're here to Cheer".

The Hamilton College Band has the following personnel:

Leader—Richard J. Redmond, '33.

Trumpets — Edward Humeston, '32, Hallock C. Campbell, '32, Edwin Constantinides, '34, John Hoffman, '34, Louis G. Katz, '34, Fred Taylor, '34, Edward Morrill, '35, Harry Bailey, '35, Earl Woolheater, '35.

Saxaphones—Claude Tuthill, '32, Judson Springstead, '34, Clinton Read, '35, Edward Gilland, '35, Adrian Courtenay, '35, Richard Glendenning, '35, Fritz Crego, '35.

Trombones—Addison Smith, '33, William Macenksen, '35.

Clarinets—Douglas Fletcher, '33, Martin Barnes, '34, Jerry Schnyder, '35, George Waters, '35.

Bass Horn—Howard Zeller, '33.

Alto Horn—Harlan Lewis, '34.

French Horn—James Huff, '35.

Drums — William Hands, '33, Clifford Lyon, '34.

FAIR HAMILTON—

With the opening of the college year almost two weeks gone, perhaps the time has past for Hamilton Life to voice the usual words of welcome to the Class of 1935. In the past it has been the custom to extend this greeting and to add that the freshman occupies on the campus a definite, if a trifle lowly, position within the confines of which he must be mindful to stay. But Hamilton College can no longer say "Welcome" to you new men, for you yourselves now comprise a large part of that College.

Hamilton offers you more in the way of opportunities than most of you at present realize. You have seen the football and other teams, and must realize the comparatively wide range of athletic activities; you have seen the fraternities, and have come into contact with the invaluable social facilities; and you have been informed of the debating teams and of the dramatic and musical societies, and can imagine the amplitude of the cultural side of life on the campus. These are extra-curricular activities, and you may turn to them or from them as you wish. You are at liberty to follow personal inclination.

It is not necessary to advise you against ignoring the curriculum itself; you can't ignore it. The scholastic side of the college life is necessarily forced upon you. To misquote a popular expression, you may take it or leave. Early contact with the classroom doubtless holds few enough delights. The work of freshman year differs little from that of the schools from which you have come. The course of studies is pretty well defined and regulated. But fortunately the advanced work for which this is but necessary preparation is infinitely more interesting and pleasant and, with respect to preparing the mind for nothing more definite than a general contact with the world after College, more valuable. It is impossible to allow the first year men any great degree of freedom in the selection of this preparatory work, and the danger lies in the misuse of this freedom when it is granted in the remaining three years—misuse by the selection of courses notoriously difficult to flunk or of courses that lend themselves to a convenient arrangement of free and classroom hours. Many an undergraduate has followed this path of least resistance only to realize, when three-fourths or more of his college years have passed, that he has ignored what is truly the best that this College has to offer and that he can no longer take advantage of these wasted opportunities.

With the infinite value to be derived from both the curricular and extra-curricular sides of life on the Hill, there is little that Hamilton does not offer. Know your College, then, that you do not partake of the benefits of the one side to the neglect of the other.

—AND FAIR PLAY

When the manner of supervision to prevail in the dormitories during this year was announced to the men concerned, it was pointed out that any one of several plans might have been adopted. The one now in effect is the most liberal of the three to which serious consideration was given. The others called for some sort of direct policing and imposed strict restraint upon the dormitory residents.

In making the decision that it did, the Administration placed its trust in the undergraduates. The success of the plan rests with them. Obviously it is up to each man living in a dormitory to see to his own conduct, and thus to prevent any considerable amount of noise or distraction. Not that this would entirely do away with the sort of disturbances that have occurred from time to time in the past, for there is a certain element on the campus that considers it smart or funny, or perhaps "collegiate", to spend the greater part of the year devising plans for the willful destruction of property and for the creation of disorder in the dormitories. These men, however, can be brought to task by the undergraduate committees created for that purpose.

Therefore it is up to each dormitory resident to see that the proper quiet is maintained at all times, and thus not only to protect himself by preventing the imposition of one of the more strict systems of policing, but also to vindicate the faith placed by the Administration in the undergraduate body.

BANQUET GIVEN NEW HILL MEN

Dr. Miller, President Ferry, and Paul Williams Address Class of 1935

In order that the freshmen might become acquainted with each other and with the College, the Class of '35 was entertained at a banquet on Saturday evening, September 19, given by one who wishes to be known as "a friend of the College".

After an excellent dinner had been served, speeches were made by Dr. Charles A. Miller, Chairman of the Committee on Instruction and Government of the Board of Trustees, President Frederick C. Ferry, and Paul Williams, '08, editor of the Utica Press. The speeches were alternated by the singing of popular songs led by John Haydn Jones, '31. The evening was concluded with the singing of Carissima.

Stresses Scholarship

"Don't be too serious-minded but be serious-minded enough", advised Dr. Miller. "You are here not to make an athletic team, to get into a fraternity, nor to have a good time, but to study with the view of acquiring sufficient culture to achieve the maximum efficiency within yourself."

"Your future careers depend largely on your records here, stated President Ferry as he stressed the value of scholarship. Urging regular habits, Dr. Ferry especially discouraged the keeping of late hours as well as an excess of card-playing and cigarette smoking. "If this class does not prove to be the best class ever to graduate from this institution we shall be disappointed", he said, "for it is the most selective group ever to enter."

"Cherish the traditions of this College and be proud of them so that we older Hamilton men may be proud of you", urged Mr. Williams, in his address. "What you do will reflect on the College."

DECAGON FIRST IN SCHOLARSHIP

Dekes Second and Emersonians Third In Group Standing For Year

With an average of 77.90 for the past scholastic year, the Decagon Society is at the top of the scholarship list. Delta Kappa Epsilon, having an average of 77.01, takes second honors, while the Emerson Literary Society follows closely with 76.76. The averages range from the Decagon average to 71.30, the average for the entire college being 75.09.

This is the first year in four years that the Emerson Literary Society has not enjoyed the first position. The Decagon Society and the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity were in second and third place respectively on last year's report.

Comparison of last year's complete college average with that of the year before shows that as a whole the scholarship of the college is improving. In 1929-30 this average was 74.69 as compared to 75.09 of last year. This represents an advance of .4 per man.

The complete scholastic report is as follows:

Decagon	17.90*
Delta Kappa Epsilon	77.01
Emerson Literary Society	76.76*
Theta Delta Chi	76.46
Lambda Chi Alpha	75.93
Neutrals	75.78*
Sigma Phi	74.995
Chi Psi	74.68
Tau Kappa Epsilon	74.16
Chi Beta Sigma	73.82
Delta Upsilon	72.56*
Alpha Delta Phi	72.37
Psi Upsilon	71.30
Averages by classes:
1931	79.712*
1932	79.168*
1933	73.336*
1934	73.682*
College average	75.09*

NOTED DRAMA AT UPTOWN THEATER

New York Guild To Present "Elizabeth, the Queen" Saturday

The play which enabled the New York Theatre Guild last year to maintain its record of at least one outstanding hit each season will be presented at the Uptown Theatre in Utica on Saturday, October 3. Matinee and night. It is Maxwell Anderson's "Elizabeth, the Queen," which Burns Mantle placed at the very head of the list in his "Ten Best Plays of the Year."

The plot revolves around the court of the Good Queen Bess in its closing days when her love for the youthful Earl of Essex was at its height. With extraordinary selection Anderson has turned these great times into a powerful, pulsating drama.

Noted Cast Promised

Behind the wierdest love affair in history are shown the plots of the enemies of Essex outside the palace walls, then the machinations within the Council Chamber, and the intrigues even in the Queen's study. But these are only background for the more intense drama that lies in the relations of the Virgin Queen and her ardent, impetuous wooer.

A notable cast of New York players is promised by the management which is sending "Elizabeth, the Queen" on tour, including Elizabeth Risdon, who will portray the title role. This fact in itself is assurance that an inspired performance will be given, for Miss Risdon's remarkable interpretation of Nina Leeds in the Theatre Guild's road presentation of "Strange Interlude" stamped her as a brilliant actress.

Hill Year Book Appears in July

The 1932 edition of the Hamiltonian, under the direction of Edward V. Gross, '32, Charles S. Symonds, '31, and Robert G. Phelps, '32, came off the press during the course of the summer. The front of the Chapel appears on the black leather cover with the numerals 1932 above and the word Hamiltonian below.

The Hamiltonian is dedicated to Elihu Root, '64, and in memory of Dr. Frank H. Wood. The 1932 Hamiltonian is the first of the long line of Hamiltonians to have a colored frontispiece. Besides this picture of Root's Glen, the volume contains several unusually beautiful photographs of the campus.

Receives Nomination

THOMAS B. RUDD, '21

Alumnus Named for District Attorney

Thomas B. Rudd, '21, of Clinton, was chosen as the Republican nominee for District Attorney of Oneida County as a result of recent voting in this county. Mr. Rudd defeated Charles L. DeAngelis, the other candidate for the nomination, by a majority of 723 votes.

Although Mr. Rudd is a comparatively young man, he has an enviable record as a proficient lawyer. Entering the law office of Elihu Root, '64, in New York City immediately after his graduation from Cornell Law School, he gained much valuable practice. Returning to Clinton, he united with F. Stanley Griffin, '18, to form a partnership firm in the village. There they have built up a fine practice, adding another member to their company recently and establishing an office in Utica.

In 1929, Mr. Rudd served this section as a United States District Attorney, but resigned within a few months because of pressing local duties. Touching upon the subject of crime and vice in Oneida County in a campaign speech, Mr. Rudd said, "I believe in the enforcement of all laws, without exception, and to that end have pledged myself repeatedly". It was this statement, coupled with his exceptional ability and energetic enthusiasm which gained him the nomination.

CLARKSON NEXT ON SCHEDULE

Potsdam Team Promises Keen Competition to Strong Hill Eleven

Attempting to hang up its second straight victory, Captain Jerry Fisher will lead the Buff and Blue eleven against Pete Dwyer's Clarkson Tech team at Steuben Field Saturday afternoon in the opening game of the Hamilton home schedule.

Although handicapped to some extent by inuries, Coach Winters' squad seems to have a slight edge over the visiting Engineers. The Hamilton squad has blanked the visitors twice in the last three years but will face a new coaching system this year. Coach Dwyer, former Syracuse University mentor, has a number of veterans who, combined with promising sophomores, should be able to force the Buff and Blue to its utmost.

The Hill team, which conquered Alfred last week, will undergo several intensive practise sessions this week to iron out the rough spots of last Saturday's play. The line-up which started the Alfred game will probably remain the same for the most part, although several positions have not as yet been definitely clinched.

Three sophomores will bolster up last year's veterans to form a strong forward line. Areson, an end on the freshman team of last year, will probably team up with Captain Fisher to fill the two wing positions. Lee De Sormo, mentioned as all-conference tackle last season, and McGee, a promising sophomore, will give the Buff and Blue a sturdy pair of tackles. Although Bremer and Sellers started in the two guard positions at Alfred, Jensen will probably occupy one of the posts if his injured shoulder has sufficiently recovered. "Chuck" Estabrook who last year was a tackle, this season is playing center.

Ollikainen and Bellatty, who starred in the Alfred game, will start at quarter and half respectively. Kingsley will fill the other halfback position while Henry Harding plays at fullback. Maynard Jones will probably also see action in the Buff and Blue backfield.

NORTH COLLEGE IS RENOVATED

Interior of Dormitory Rebuilt Completely; Store Is Improved

Students returning to the Hill this fall were greeted by several improvements in the equipment on the campus, all caused by the committee of the Trustees which investigated the gymnasium and the College Store in regard to sanitary conditions, and by the adoption of the freshman dormitory rule.

Although it was announced last spring that North College was to be renovated during the summer recess, the completeness of the renovation astounded even the most optimistic of the undergraduates to such an extent that many who had engaged rooms elsewhere desired to change to North.

Improve Shower Room in Gym

The inside of the building was almost completely torn out and rebuilt, and even the casual visitor cannot but notice the new stairways and hard-wood floors which in the corridors are covered with an attractive composition material. Stucco walls replace the old plain plaster. Even new furniture is abundant in the rooms. Furthermore the common bathroom has been replaced by one on each floor, and a reception room has been provided for the entertainment of guests.

The improvements in the shower room of the gymnasium for the purpose of sanitation answers inadequately a crying need of the College, but should serve the purpose temporarily until the promised gym becomes a reality. While it is little better in convenience and comfort, it should decrease the number of cases for the Infirmary.

The increase in the size of the College Store and refinishing of its floors, besides furthering the cause of public health, have made it a much more pleasant and agreeable place in which to spend leisure moments.

FELLOWSHIP IN BIOLOGY CREATED

Dr. James H. Glass, Former Trustee, Leaves $30,000 To Hamilton

According to the will, probated in Herkimer on September 21, of the late Dr. James H. Glass of Trenton Falls, a fund of $30,000 was given to the trustees of Hamilton College. The income from this is to be used to create the James H. Glass Fellowship in Biology, which will provide for a stipend of $750 a year for two years. Dr. Glass was a member of the Board of Trustees and received an honorary A.M. degree from Hamilton in 1912.

The conditions governing this fellowship provide that members of the senior class who have proven their order of scholarship in general work and have shown marked ability in research in Biology, are to be nominated to the faculty by the professors of that department. The faculty is to select one to be recommended to the Board of Trustees . If the trustees are unable to select a fellow in any one year or years, the income shall be added to the original $30,000 and another fellowship created in Political Science, with a stipend of $750, for one year only. The conditions governing this fellowship will be the same as the Biology fellowship.

Although Hamilton contributes to the support of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens and the American School of Classical Studies at Rome, thus entitling her graduates to compete for the annual fellowships granted by these schools, at present Hamilton has only one fellowship. This is the Root Fellowship in Science, which is ordinarily granted for a single year of graduate study at some American or European university and has a stipend of $1,000.

Ferry Will Speak

President Frederick C. Ferry is to propose a toast at a dinner for alumni and undergraduates of Wesleyan University in Middletown on October 10. The banquet is being held in connection with the centennial celebration of that institution.

Senator Wwight Morrow of Amherst will also give a toast at this time. Although the father-in-law of Hon. Frederick Davenport of Clinton is the oldest graduate of Wesleyan he will not be able to attend the meeting.

CARPE DIEM

We must say something along the line of introduction to the new men, so we'll repeat a little conversation we heard in one of the village barber shops one afternoon of the first week in college. One of the many small freshmen from the Hill burst into the place, looked up at the clock, and puffed at the proprietor, "Say, how long before I can get a shave?"

The barber looked at the youth, stroked his hand over the youngster's face and drawled out, "Oh-h-h, about three years, I guess".

After a summer's deliberation we've named our car "Chasta" because she has to have oil and she has to have gas—in fact chasta have everything.

Thursday's issue of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle printed a story concerning the great man from the Orient and the article was headed—

GANDHI NOT AFRAID OF THREATS TO LIFE

—That's nothing—neither are the editors.

Heard on the campus:
"Do you know that Professor Patton is engaged?"
"No, is zat so?"
"Yeah! Patton applied for."

One of the more experienced freshmen tells us that when a pretty woman puckers up her lips for a kiss, she's just setting her trap.

Now that pledging is over, the various fraternities have handed us the following lists:

Sigma Phi: One legacy and three excuses.
Alpha Delta Phi: Thirteen little elfies.
Psi Upsilon: 14 payments on the mortgage.
Chi Psi: 2 slickers, and a couple of hicks.
Delta Upsilon: Several new pledge buttons.
Delta Kappa Epsilon: 2 romig cavaliers.
Theta Delta Chi: Three Fords and a fairy.
Emerson Literary Society: Six souvenirs and three surprise boxes.
Lambda Chi Alpha: Seven potential seniors and several lambds.
Tau Kappa Epsilon: A new member.
Chi Beta Sigma: Two dogs, one cat.

IN EXTEMP CLASS

Benedict: "At this exciting point in the game the coach reminded one of a banjo drum-head, he was so tight."

Hamilton College Press Board Active in Writing News Stories on Local Activities

The Hamilton College Press Board, starting its second complete year since its reorganization under the directorship of Professor F. Winfield Smith, began its season's work with the opening of College. One change has been made in the personnel of the Board for the year 1931-1932. Howard C. Hosmer, '34, has resigned because of the lack of time. H. Durant Osborne, '34, has been selected to succeed Hosmer. The other members of the Board are Irving Gellman, '33, and Louis G. Katz, '34.

Since returning to the Hill, Gellman, Katz, and Osborne have been sending out news stories on the various athletic events on the campus, football, soccer and cross-country, on all the new men, new faculty members, and on those students who received high honor, honor, or credit averages during the past year. These personals are sent to the home-town newspapers.

The Press Board will send news articles this year to about 150 newspapers throughout the middle Atlantic states and New England. To the publications outside the state will be sent for the most part the news concerning their local teams playing Hamilton, and also concerning undergraduates from their localities.

Last year, prior to June 1, according to Professor Smith, the Press Board sent out 1,716 copies of 42 general unsolicited news releases, 148 orders for telegraphic reports, and 557 personal items. Unsolicited releases are those sent out gratis, at regular intervals. All ordered stories are paid for.

Faculty Offers Two New Courses

Two new courses were added to the curriculum offered by Hamilton College this fall, the French 5-6b and History 13-14 courses. The Biology 5-6 course is also being repeated, and Ethics 5-6 and Hebrew 1-2 are offered after a lapse of several years.

The new French course, taught by Professor George H. Perrine, was offered primarily for those interested in speaking the language, rather than reading or writing it. History 13-14, under Professor Milledge L. Bonham, jr., is a study of Latin American History, and this, too, is being offered for the first time this fall.

Harper, '03, Dies In Philadelphia

Dr. Paul Tompinks Harper, of the Class of 1903, who died in a Philadelphia hospital while on a visit to that city on August 1, was one of the outstanding surgeons of Albany. He founded the department of obstetrics at the Albany Medical College, where he has been professor since 1915.

Dr. Harper received his medical degree from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, in 1907. While at Hamilton he was affiliated with Theta Delta Chi and during the war he went overseas.

HARRIERS HAVE GOOD OUTLOOK

Five Letter Men Compose the Nucleus of Hill Cross Country Squad

Growing interest in cross-country is shown by the fact that the squad this year is larger that it has been in previous years. Five letter-men together with the newcomers fill out a squad of 14 men. The men now competing on the course are: Broughton, '32, Campbell, '32, Denham, '32, K. Gross, '32, Pritchard, '32, Bliss, '33, Clegg, '33, Olszewski, '33, Poppe, '33, Weedy, '33, Dube, '34, Gildersleeve, '34, Lyon, '34, and Shaver, '34.

According to Coach Winters the present team is the most promising in years. "Walt" Pritchard, Hamilton ace, Broughton, Captain Campbell, Bliss, and Poppe are the five letter-men, and in addition to these are K. Gross, Clegg, and Olszewski all of whom saw considerable service last year. Four sophomores are now on the squad.

The season will be inaugurated a week from Saturday when the Hill team travels to Annandale to meet St. Stephens. While St. Stephens is but a comparatively small institution, it is noted for its cross country teams, and it is probable that Hamilton will face strong opposition.

On October 24 the team will travel to Geneva to meet Hobart. A week later the Rochester meet will be held here, and on November 7 the Conference meet will also be held at Hamilton.

ASHMEAD REVEALS FACTS ABOUT FRENCH CUSTOMS

wouldn't go anyway. Movies are only for the lower classes. So as a result, is it any wonder that the average Frenchman pictures the average American walking down the street with a "45" on one hip, and a pocket flask on the other?"

Sent Under Deleware Plan

"Every manicurist knows her French literature, and if asked, or sometimes, even if not asked, will tell you her favorite author. In the family with which I resided, there were three children—two boys about my age and a girl of eleven years. The eldest had just received his permit to practice pharmacy, and the other boy had recently been graduated from the University. The girl was far ahead of the girls in this country for education. She spoke English very fluently, and understood Latin in addition to several other languages."

Ashmead was one of the delegates to the Sorbonne under the Delaware Plan which sends various students to the foreign institution upon certain conditions. Among these are a satisfactory average in college work, and especially a proficiency in the French language. Upon returning to this country, they are accredited with that particular year towards graduation, provided however, that they follow a prescribed course of study while at the Sorbonne. Ashmead found that several of the courses which he desired to take in preparation for this choice of a career as a foreign diplomat, were not offered in the regular schedule, so he attended certain classes at the University of Paris and the Facultae de Droit, majoring in Economic Geography.

Sees Diplomatic Functions

He was particularly fortunate in his residence in Paris. He lived with the family of A. Couvrat-Desvergnes, who was a Docteur en Droit, Arbitre au Tribunal de Commerce. Through this connection, Ashmead was at once welcomed to the diplomatic circles where he had the pleasure of meeting many distinguished people with whom he became familiar.

"One nice thing about such diplomatic functions is the informality which one doesn't expect to find. Instead of setting the guest or guests of honor on a pedestal, such as we often do, they circulate most freely among the invited friends and are extremely agreeable. Many famous painters and artists attend these teas, and very often the President of the Republic is a guest."

Mr. Ashmead continued, "The French professors are proponents of the theory of not caring whether you attend their classes or not. Of the three meetings of the class each week, two of the periods are given over to lectures by men who are well known in the outside world for their knowledge of that particular subject. For instance, in my literature class, we had such men as LeBreton and Lanson, who have written books which are used at Hamilton. One doesn't want to miss a single recitation because his intellectual curiosity has been aroused, and that is precisely what the teachers are after."

Turning to another side of French life and ideas, Ashmead declared that French opinion was rather skeptical of Hoover's moratorium because of their relations with the Germans. He also stated that he believed that France was in a much more stable condition economically than many of the other European countries.

HILL ELEVEN DOWNS ALFRED IN FIRST GAME

in the second quarter when Alfred punted over Hamilton's goal line. The ball was brought out 20 yards on a touchback and the Buff and Blue began a varied offense which carried the ball 80 yards for the score. The feature of the scoring march was Bellatty's long run of 35 yards. He broke through the line and reversed his field in a pretty exhibition of broken field running and the second longest run of the game. Hamilton used only seven plays on this march, two of which were forward passes. Bellatty scored, going over from the two yard line. DeSormo kicked the extra point, which proved to be Hamilton's margin of victory.

Hamilton carried the ball from its own 45 yard line to Alfred's 20-yard marker in the third quarter but the home team held for downs when Hamilton failed to complete a pass over the goal line.

Alfred Scores In Closing Minutes

Alfred's scoring break came late in the last quarter when Kingsley had placed a perfect punt out at Alfred's two yard line and the play was called back and Hamilton was penalized. The next kick was run back to the 35 yard line, Alfred then started on a scoring march, interference with a forward passer netting the home team 15 yards on a Hamilton penalty. Merck scored for Alfred, the try for the extra point failing. The game ended shortly afterward.

for the New York State Conservation Department. He directed the work in which 200,000 trout were held under observation during the summer.

Dr. Nelson C. Dale spent most of July revising the New York State Geological Survey of the Russell Quadrangle of St. Lawrence County. In August he made a survey of the New Hampshire and Maine shorelines to discover the effect of the violent storm which occurred last March.

In a tour through Europe, Professor Paul A. Fancher visited Austria, Germany, Switzerland, and France. The trip, covering a distance of some 3,000 miles, was completed in six weeks. According to Mr. Fancher, the highlights of the trip were the music, operas, and plays of Strassburg and Muncih, and the Colonial Exhibition in Paris.

Mr. Amos N. Wilder spent a part of the summer working on his Doctor's Dissertation. He also published an article in the Journal of Biblical Literature. In addition he found time to compete in several important tennis tournaments held during the vacation.

During June and July, Dr. Milledge L. Bonham taught Summer School at West Virginia University in Morgantown, West Virginia. He spent August with his father in South Carolina.

Rockne's Biography To Appear Saturday

Cavanaugh, and a fascimilie of that of Knute Rockne and will sell at five dollars a copy. The trade edition will be on sale about a week later at The Book Store, 130 North Michigan St., South Bend, Indiana at $2.50 a copy.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED BY ALUMNI GROUP

with keen interest and delight to the reading of the half-century letter by Clinton Scollard, L.H.D., '81. Wallace B. Johnson, '15, the Necrologist, read a list of forty-five alumni whose deaths had occurred during the past year.

Morrill Fund Progresses

President Frederick C. Ferry welcomed the returning Alumni on behalf of the College. He complimented the Faculty on the high quality of instruction prevalent in the classrooms, being in accord with Charles A. Miller, Chairman of the Trustee Committee on Instruction and Government, who, during the past year, was a close observer of the educational methods employed here.

Mr. J. D. Ibbotson, College Librarian, reported the progress of the Morrill Fund recently undertaken by former students of Professor A. D. Morrill. The greater part of a $6000 fund has been raised, a portion of which is to be used as an endowment, while the remainder will serve for the purchase of books.

The Secretary of the Aumni Council, Wallace B. Johnson, set forth the two main objectives of the Council: assistance in the College building program, and the creation of an Alumni Fund. The places in the Council left vacant by the expiration of terms will be filled by the following: George H. Sicard, '06; Clement W. Blodgett, '09; Wallace B. Johnson, '15; Stanley B. Gilbert, '07; Francis P. Baumler, '20; Pirnie Pritchard, '21; Edward C. MacIntyre, '05; George L. Nesbitt, '24; T. Bartle Gorman, '20; Leslie L. Roemer, '24; Lindsley H. Crocker, '27.

The elections of the Society of Alumni resulted in the following officers for the year 1931-32: President, William M. Bristol, '82; Vice-Presidents, Clarence L. Fisher, '00; Edward J. Humestton, '99; Daniel R. Campbell, '02; Recording Secretary, William H. Squires, '88; Corresponding Secretary, Joseph D. Ibbotson, '90; Half Century Annalist, Bradford W. Sherwood, '82; Alternate, Anthony H. Evans, '82; Necrologist, Wallace B. Johnson, '15; Executive Committee, Edward Fitch, '86; Frederick C. Ferry, Hon. '17; William H. Squires, '88; J. D. Ibbotson, '90; Wallace B. Johnson, '15.

The meeting ended with a prayer by the Rev. Edward W. Abbey, D.D., '71.

NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO HILL FACULTY

grees. He spent a year of graduate work at Harvard, teaching while he worked for his doctor's degree. For the past three years Dr. Dealey has been teaching at Western Reserve.

Mr. Mattingly, Instructor in Latin and Greek, comes here from Yale where he has been an instructor for the past two years. He graduated from the University of Chicago in 1926 and later did graduate work under Professor Paul Shorey.

President Frederick C. Ferry, Dean Edward Fitch, Professor Joseph Ibbotson, and Edward S. Babcock, '94 were chosen committee members of the Torch Club, honorary society concern with education, when that organization held a meeting at the Hotel Utica on September 20. The feature of the meeting was an address by Dr. R. S. Snyder, pastor of the Westminster Church in Utica, on "Adventuring in the World of Unrest and Revolution", tracing the progress of the Soviet government.

Dr. Richard H. Hutchings, club president, announced the committees which had been nominated at the meeting of the directors and placed Dr. Ferry on the nominating committee, Dr. Fitch on the membership committee, and Professor Ibbotson and Mr. Babcock on the Speakers' committee.

STUDENTS RULE SELVES IN HILL DORMITORIES

The men who form these bodies will be elected entirely by the students. President Ferry has commissioned the presidents of the four classes to appoint men from each section to call the members of the separate classes together so that each section of each class may elect its representative to the committee. When these committees are elected they will confer with President Ferry and the outline of the system will be given them so that they may know what is expected of them.

The plan is that when a member or members of a committee find that the hall is littered up or that too much noise is being made, they will lodge a complaint with the person concerned, with the idea that he will be prevailed upon to desist for the common good. Likewise when any damage is done to the college property it is expected that the supervisors will undertake to discover the person involved and collect from him the money according to the charge made by the Bursar. If the guilty person does not wish to pay the bill in person the committee will handle the money for him.

If in any case the student members of the committee find that they themselves cannot cope with the situation they are to report to the members of the discipline committee of the faculty who will take over the punishment but not the detection of the guilty individuals.

The plan depends for its success on the cooperation of the students with the members of the committees and it is the sincere hope of the faculty that this plan will effect conditions worthy of the College and such as will be a source of pride to the inhabitants of the dormitories.
